OFFICIAL LEGAL CERTIFICATION

Medical Necessity for use of Cannabis as per Jenks v. State, 576 F.2d 676 (1 DCA 1991).

PATIENT NAME, COUNTY: SCOTT YANDELL, DUVAL COUNTY, FLORIDA

This document serves to certify that SCOTT YANDELL has consulted with an attorney and medical expert in the State of Florida, and as such has established the right to cultivate, possess and consume cannabis for medical purposes. In Florida, a person can lawfully possess, cultivate and consume cannabis when the following have been established:

1. The defendants had no control over the circumstances which required the choice between the lesser of two evils;
 2. No less harmful alternative was available; and
 3. The harm sought to be avoided was less offensive than the criminal acts committed to avoid it.
- See, Jenks v. State, 576 F.2d 676 (1 DCA 1991).

Copies of SCOTT YANDELL'S medical chart documenting he/she has been diagnosed with the following conditions have been supplied through counsel. Condition(s): displacement of intervertebral discs at levels C3-4 and C6-C7 (ICD-9: 722.10); bilateral cervical radiculopathies and left sided lumbar radiculopathy (ICD-9: 723.4, 724.4), lumbar disc degeneration at L3-L4 (ICD-9: 722.52), chronic pain syndrome (ICD-9: 338.4), paraspinal spasms and guarding (ICD-9: 728.85, 784.99), attention deficit disorder (ICD-9: 314.01), plantar fascial fibromatosis (ICD-9: 728.71) and sleep apnea (ICD-9: 780.57).

1. A consultative examination was performed by Dr. Chaksau Sharma including a review of SCOTT YANDELL'S medical records and detailed interview; whereby, it was determined if cannabis would be medically necessary to treat SCOTT YANDELL'S conditions.
2. Based on this review, in Dr. Sharma's opinion, there is no safer alternative available than cannabis to treat SCOTT YANDELL'S condition, and this treatment is medically necessary for his/her well-being.
3. Applying SCOTT YANDELL'S facts and circumstances to the law in the State of Florida SCOTT YANDELL has established beyond a reasonable doubt that he/she has a lawful right to cultivate, consume, and possess cannabis for medicinal purposes.

As a consequence, SCOTT YANDELL would need the ability to cultivate up to 60 plants to prepare enough medicine for a 120 day time period.* (*120 days is the approximate amount of time it takes to harvest and prepare cannabis extracts for medicinal purposes).

I hereby certify that SCOTT YANDELL has proven beyond a reasonable doubt that cannabis is medically necessary.

Note to Law Enforcement: As licensed Florida Counsel, I hereby attest that I have consulted with the person identified on the front of this card, and based on a licensed physicians expert opinion and testimony, the patients diagnosed medical condition meets the criteria to establish a medical necessity for cannabis, as allowed by Florida's Medical Necessity Doctrine which states: (1) the patient did not intentionally bring about the circumstances which caused the unlawful act, (2) the patient could not accomplish the same objective using a less offensive alternative, and (3) that the evil sought to be avoided was more heinous than the unlawful act perpetrated to avoid it. (See Jenks v. State, 582 So. 2D 676 1st DCA 1991). The expert opinion of a licensed Florida physician confirms the following: (1) The condition the patient is suffering from was not brought about intentionally. (2) For the patient, there is no safer alternative available to treat their condition. (3) For patient, the benefits of their use of cannabis outweigh any of the harm it may cause to them. Disclaimer: This card is intended to be used solely for the purpose of establishing beyond a reasonable doubt the patient's medical necessity for cannabis. As such, the patient's medical necessity is an absolute defense from criminal prosecution, and any state official can be stripped of their immunity for willfully disregarding the human rights and safety of the patient identified by this card. See, Fla. Stat § 768.28(9)(a). For more information, contact Health Law Services at 1-855-525-7529.

Note to Law Enforcement: As licensed Florida Counsel, I hereby attest that I have consulted with the person identified on the front of this card, and have been retained by them to advise them on lawfully providing cannabis to patients with a valid licensed qualified physicians order prescribing cannabis. Caregivers may only provide cannabis to qualified patients whose debilitating medical condition meets the criteria to establish a medical necessity for cannabis, as allowed by Florida's Medical Necessity Doctrine which states: (1) the patient did not intentionally bring about the circumstances which caused the unlawful act, (2) the patient could not accomplish the same objective using a less offensive alternative, and (3) that the evil sought to be avoided was more heinous than the unlawful act perpetrated to avoid it.
