Comes now, James Pickett, a resident of Orange County, Florida. The Supreme Court assumed jurisdiction of the above cited case on 23 January, 2023, Movant asks for leave of the Court to file an amicus brief in the matter, pursuant to the Court's order of said date.

Movant's interest is as a resident and citizen of Florida. A reader in the law with a medical background, he has interest in Florida laws, legislation, and morality. Movant has no political nor religious affiliated motivation. Movant has not served as a consultant to any party in this matter.

Movant will address Florida statutes which define the unborn as a natural person. And the implications of the Florida constitution, irrespective of the US Constitution.

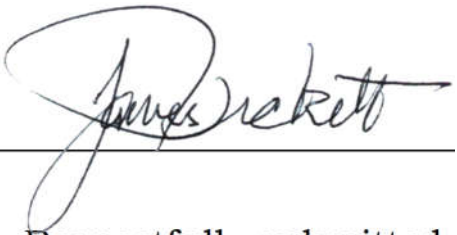

The movant can assist the court in the disposition of the case by delineating the changes in Florida law since 1989 and changes in the laws of other states defining the unborn. Further, Movant will bring to the Court's awareness pertinent Federal caselaw following Dobbs. Additionally, movant can assist the Court with changes in medico-legal and social terminology, including viability, which has direct bearing on the interpretation of caselaw.

It is not likely that any of the parties to the matter would present the same medico-legal arguments on their own.

Neither of the parties has solicited assistance on this matter from the Movant.

Movant has emailed all parties requesting consent to file the amicus brief.

WHEREFOR, Movant asks this Honorable Court to grant leave to file an amicus brief, in support of Respondents, in this matter.
